BRIEF MENTION.

THE United States steamship Tuscarora sailed for San Francisco this morning.

SUBGICAL OPERATION .- On Saturday last Dr. J. S. McGrew removed a tumor from the knee of a native

(Sunday) evening, by the Rev. James M. Alexander, when the usual monthly collection in aid of missions will be taken.

No DECORATION .- The Alta of the 24th ult says: To or from Kaunakakai, Molokai 5 00 "The committee of the House of Representatives Makena, Maui..... 800 to accept the Hawaiian Decoration offered him by the King of the Sandwich Islands."

> FIRE DEPARTMENT ELECTION .- The following are the officers re-elected for the ensuing year at the not seen the entertainment should pay them a visit. by them to pay their passage back to China. Such election held on Monday last: Chief Engineer.....

THE Hawaiian Evangelical Association commenced its annual conference in this city on Tuesday last and will probably adjourn during the coming week. The Rev. O. A. Forbes was chosen Moderator and Rev. Messrs. H. H. Parker and A. Pali, Scribes, Hawaiian Mission Children's Society for the delivery of the President's address and reading of reports, will be held in the Vestry of Fort Street Church this evening, at half-past seven. The public are invited QUEEN'S HOSPITAL .- The following are the officers

H. M. C. S .- The adjourned annual meeting of the

of this institution elected for the ensuing year: F. A. Schaefer, Secretary; J. H. Paty, Treasurer; W. L. Green, Auditor; S. N. Castle, A, J. Cartwright, F. A. Shaefer, J. H. Paty and W. C. Parke, Executive Committee.

MUSIC THIS AFTERNOON.-The band will play at Emma Square this afternoon, commencing at half past four o'clock. Following is the programme: La Hanau o ke Alil, Festal March......Berger Overture, Opera, If I were the King......Adam Fantasia, Opera, Girofle-Girofla.....Lecoeq

Nightingale Poika, by request............Bohemia DENTISTRY .- We understand that Dr. H. C. Ledyard, who recently arrived from San Francisco, and now on a visit to the other islands, will shortly open an office in this city for the practice of dentistry. He is prepared with apparatus for administering nitrous oxide, or "laughing gas," for painless extraction of teeth, etc.

LUNALILO'S TOMB .- The tomb of the late King Lunalilo, in the Kawaiahao Church yard, has been completed and a handsome iron fence built around it, enclosing about an eighth of an acre of ground, neatly laid with walks. The tomb itself is built of concrete and is a massive but very tasty affair. It was built by order of his venerable father, H. H. C. Kanaina, at a large outlay, and forms altogether a very elegant addition to the church surroundings.

FOURTH OF July CELEBRATION .- A proposition by some of our prominent citizens, has been made to celebrate the coming Fourth by a parade of the "Antiques and Horribles," and that a subscription be taken up among the citizens to bo placed at the disposal of the " Horrible " club, for the purpose of illuminating and making a pyrotechnic display in the evening. We most heartily endorse the plan, and feel confident of a liberal response. A meeting will probably be held soon, to consider the proposed arfrangements, of which due notice will be given.

DISCOVERY OF A SPRING .- The Lahui Hawaii has an account of the discovery of a fine spring of water on Monday last at Kalihi, at a locality where no water existed heretofore. Some workmen were engaged in digging a ditch through which to bring water from the mountain, when unexpectedly a stream burst out from the bottom of the ditch, which continues to afford an abundant supply of pure water for drinking purposes and for irrigation. The writer suggests that it is an omen of the good effects of Reciprocity. It goes to show that a plenty of water could be had in similar situations on these islands by boring.

SCHOOL EXAMINATIONS .- The annual examinations of the Fort Street, Royal, and Pobukaina Government Schools have came off during the past week, with very satisfactory results in each. The Fort Street School for boys (58 pupils) is under the charge of Mr. M. B. Beckwith, assisted by Miss | The cockroach is as industrious no doubt, as the Flora Wood; the Royal School (with 198 boys) has as principal the Rev. A. Mackintosh, with pantry from morn till night, looking for sweets in assistants Mrs. C. E. Harris, Miss Ida von Pfister and Miss C. Davis; and in the Primary Department Miss I. Brickwood and Miss C. K. Fornander: the Pohukaina girls' school (formerly the Mitilani) is under the charge of Miss Corney and Miss Dudoit, and has 75 pupils. By reference to the report of the President of the Board of Education we find that the number of children attending schools in the district of Honolulu is no less than 1794. A

SUNDAY SCHOOLS .- To-day the various Sunday Schools have their annual celebration, by marching through the streets, church exercises, and a picnic. The following is the programme: The schools will assemble at their respective rooms at half-past nine o'clock. The Kawaiahao school will start from the Kawaiabao Church at ten o'clock, and pass through King, Richard and Beretania streets to the Fort Street Church, where it will be joined by the Fort Street School; the procession will then proceed to Nauanu street, where it will be oined by the Kaumakapili School, and then through Nauanu and King streets to the Bethel, and then on through King street to the Kawaiahao Church where an hour will be taken up in singing and short addresses. A pionic in the church yard will follow the exercises in the church. We understand that His Majesty the King, and the members | gone? of the Legislative Assembly will attend the services in the church.

Thursday last, the more advanced scholars gave tions were rendered extremely well. The prizes consisting of sultable books, were distributed as follows: 1st. Solomon, greatest number of good 4 43 3 FM | behavior marks : Ed. H Von Holt; Bd. J. Wil-

> AN EXHIBITION by the students of the Hawaiian Theological seminary, of which the Rev. B. W. Parker is Principal, was held at the Kawalaha Church on Thursday evening last. The Church was well filled with an attentive audience, (mostly natives) who were edified by speeches made in Hawaiian from some of the graduating students. Some of the speakers were remarkably eloquent both in language and gesture and evinced a true appreciation of the "Great Cause" of which they were about to become advocates.

> WE ARE informed by resident Chinese merchants, whom we consider reliable, that the class of men selected by Mr. Asiu in San Francisco, and shortly expected here; have been carefully chosen by him from among several thousand recent arrivals, and that they are mainly Cantonese and up country agriculturists, and not, as has been represented, a bad and undesirable lot. We have every confidence in the probity and discretion of Mr. Asiu, whom we have known as a respectable merchant in this city for a number of years past, and trust that the new importations will be satisfactory to the sugar and rice planters who are in immediate want of labor.

Young Men's Christian Association.-This organization held its annual meeting for election of officers on May 9th, at the residence of Mr. T. H. Davies, the President for the last year. The reports for the past year showed a prosperous condition of the Association and its enterprises. The reading room holds its old position of attractiveness and usefulness. The report of the work of Sit Moon the Chinese Missionary was very encouraging; a balance of $133.75 was reported in the treasury and the financial resources as promising. The addresses of the retiring President was interesting and suggestive of the want of more various and wide spreading influences from the Association. The following officers were elected for the following year: President, C. J. Lyons; Vice-President, S. M. Damon; Treasurer, C. M. Cooke; Secretary, G. P. Castle. The meeting broke up after a pleasant hour devoted to music and refreshments.

THE MORTING Combination Troupe performed at the Royal Hawaiian Theatre on last Saturday evening to a full house. The marvelous trapeze acts of Lottie and Master Walter were highly appreciated by the audience, and the great applause accorded to those little wonders was well merited. Mile. Morting was very pleasing in her songs, and received several woman which weighed two and a half pounds. The encores during the evening. Mr. Morting also appeared in character songs, with good effect. The farce in the second part-" In want of a servant," was very amusing, and in this Mr. Morting proved himself well posted in the negro business. On Monday and Wednesday evening the Company performed to moderate houses, Lottie and Masters Walter and Roma performing some astounding flying trapeze acts on both nights, and a perfect shower of dollars and various coins were thrown upon the stage by the audience. The utmost propriety is observed, there being no trace of vulgarity in any of the songs etc. perceptible. Timid people need apprehend no danger attending the daring exploits of the juvenile acrobats. as every appliance is perfectly safe, the fastening of children, Mr. C. Morting. The company will appear for the last time this evening, when all who have

Shall We Import More Chinese?

Mr. Editor-It appears to me that at the present eeting of the Hawaiian Legislature there are few questions that are of more importance and requiring more consideration than the Chinese Nations, like individuals, have three ways to acquire knowledge, to wit: From teaching, from the experience of others, and from their own experience. Well, for us, if our Hawaiian Congress in this instance is wise to learn from the experience of others and to make use of it; no need for us to go to far off countries to find out that a Chinese population is tike the Upas tree, or like poison in the leaves of civilization. We have only to go to our nearest neighbor, to California, to learn from the experience of other most prosperous States of the American Union, that the Chinese population is a curse to any and every civilized country California is a country large in extent, with thousands of miles of the richest soil, with a large population, amongst whom the presence of the present number of Chinese compared with the number mixed into the population of this country is, in fact, less than here; and notwithstanding this the presence of those Chinese is felt so detrimental and obnoxious to the best interests of the country, that we may look forward with every mail to hear of a popular outbreak and the commencement of a war against the Chinese in the streets of San Francisco, as well as in the inland towns. But if a rich and populous country like Cali ornia feels the injurious influence of the Chine e, how much more do we feel it already, and will feel it in the future The United States, by a treaty, are compelled to endure the advent of the Chinese. Thanks be to Providence that we are unshackled and are independent and free to enact such laws as will protect the best interests of the country while it i time to do so, before the flood overwhelms us. It is true that but a few years ago Australia New Zealand, and California, etc., welcomed the Chinese and induced them to immigrate. What was the boon for which those countries, besides others, so anxiously contended? It was the cheap labor of the Chinese; but not as cheap at present as it was then, and why then is it that those coun tries at the present are as anxious and determined to expel the Chinese? and the answer is, because years of experience have fully demonstrated the fact that the benefits derived from Chinese cheap labor do fall far below the immense and deadly injury which the country at large suffers from Chinese population. Such is the experience of all other countries that ever handled this Chinese abomination, and therefore well for us, if we have common sense enough left us to learn from the experience of others, to look upon the Chinese in the same light. As long as we have need of cheap labor, the introduction of Chinese must be necessary, and even welcome; but it behooves the Legislature to protect the best interests of the country by prohibiting the Chinese from becoming citizens and enjoying the rights and privileges as such, as no citizen must be always better than a bad and dangerous one. No Chinaman ever becomes a citizen in the true sense of the word, of any country. In whatever country a Chinaman may be he always feels himself to be a citizen of his Celestial Empire, and nothing ean ever tempt him to adopt another country as his permanent home, or take pride and interest in the prosperity of any country, except so far as his individual purse is affected. A Chinaman can never feel patriotism for any country outside of China, and no country can ad vance in prosperity where patriotism is dead. It is true that Chinese labor is cheap, that the Chinese are industrious, persevering and economi cal, but unfortunately their industry, perseverance economy, though virtues, becomes the curse of any country infested with a Chinese population. The honey bee is industrious, looking for sweets far and near, persevering in its labors from morn till night, and bringing its stores into the hive for the benefit of her progeny and the general community, her miniature country, besides by impregnating blossoms, spreading her benefits far and wide. Every addition of one of these industrious little patriots becomes a gain to a country.

this pastry, or that cream pot, this beefsteak, or that preserve, and he thrives upon his fare and his labor, and increases in generations; but whoever heard of a house-wife introducing these industrious but selfish laborers, veritable Chinese, into her cupboard or pantry ?
And here lies the difference between bee and cockroach, that while the former is a patriot the latter is a miserly and altogether selfish laborer. who will work with industry at any and everything from which he can draw the least substance, persevere, economize with the animus of the most refined miser, alone and entirely for his own individual self. He knows no country but China, and every feeling, every thought, every hope and ambition is centred in himself again in China. The drain of specie by the Chinese from California is estimated at $75,000 daily, as a low estimate, and California, rich and prosperous country, feels the constant drain. Here, our daily complaint is hard times, no money in the country. How much specie have those 2000 Chinese, that are distributed about the islands, drawn from this country during the last ten years? A question perhaps difficult to answer correctly, but well demonstrated by the fact of the present scarcity of gold and other specie. Our exports during the last ten years have increased from year to year, while our specie has become less every year. Where has it

Every Chinaman who ships as laborer on a plantation and receives an advance from $30 to $50, steadiness of N. E., winds.

Every Chitraining in English Grammar. The elecution of lace retail dealer, after having falled in business the hative burs was good, and some of the recita- perhaps two or three times, when he has accumu lated a certain amount of cash, returns to China. No tie can bind the Chinese to any country. He comes and marries and when his accumulations are sufficient, leaves wite and children to return to mington; 4th. Makin; 5th, (recitation) Lui his home in China. All his labors, or at least the proceeds of it, are no benefit to this country, but a decided injury, by drawing from it the specie that might have built up enterprises of lasting benefit to the country.

Let the native Hawaiian who has so few resources from which to earn a living by independent labor, find the cultivation of potatoes a source of scant income, and bundreds of Chinese cockroaches rush into the business. Let reciprocity make rice culture as profitable as sugar, and in a few years the Chinese cockroach will have every rood of rice land by fair or toul means from the native land owners, till every tare patch is converted into rice land, and natives are left to starve for want of their national food; and what benefit will the $100,000 or $300,000 imported for our rice crop by the industry of Chinese be to the country? Every doltar will find its way to China, and when the lands are worn out and useless, when the lemon is squeezed, the Chinese will leave the rind to an impoverished people, which was so foolish, so void of common sense, as to permit them to transfer the kernel to their home and throwing the husk to the native owners of the soil. We desire to repopulate the islands, but by all means let our immigrants be the bee, instead of the cockroach.

The mechanic who carns from two dollars to three dollars per day by his labor, and supports a respectable family, who look to this country as a ome for their children, is displaced by the Chinese who works for one-fourth of the white man's price, and while the former spends his income in the country of his adoption, the Chinese cockroach accumulates by his miserly economy, and the country loses not only that amount amassed, but an enlightened family and its meome are driven from the country.

I have abstained altogether from considering the Chinese question from a moral stand point, being convinced that the above remarks will remain equally good for every well wisher of these islands. Every father who looks for a home for his children; every native who desires the independence of his native land, must have the earnest desire to be protected from the incursions of these Asiatic leeches, this mighty curse to the progress and prosperity of Hawaii nei, and the remnant of a race that was once numerous and prosperous.

(while labor is so much needed) from entering the country, but if labor desires to enter the country, it is not more than the common good demands, that such labor is and remains available labor. It is a saicidal, a more than lunatic action, to introduce cheap laborers into the country at a great expense, to allow them, after a few years, and as soon as they have become useful as laborers, by having learned the labor required of them, to leave the labor for which they were imported, to prey upon the community, and as the cockroach defiles everything catable in a pantry, to gnaw at every industry by which valuable citizens, skilled and reliable nechanics, and native owners of their native soil, make their living. I hope, therefore, most earnesly, that to avoid the future popular wrath of an injured and long-suffering people, our Representatives, mindful of the best interests of their country, will advocate a law prohibiting the presence in this country of Chinese, otherwise than as hired laborers on fields, or as domestic servants; a law which prohibits the giving of any kind of license to Chinese, and prohibits the renewal of all licenses at present in force, after their expiration, except licenses to wholesale merchants and importers. Let all Chinese be prohibited from holding lands by purchase, lease or rental, and all Chinese, that two months after the proclamation of such a law, are found unbired, be set to work by the gov-

permanent, and the country would be cleansed from a sore that is every day eating more deeply into its life. Self preservation is the first natural law of Individuals, and no less of nations. To continue Chinese immigration, with an idea to repopulation. would be the conception of the brain of a lunatic; as no person can possibly be ignorant of the fact that for every life added to the population by inter-marriage of Chinese with native women, others may have been sent to untimely graves through Chinese immoralities and Chinese vices, before unknown in this country.

Miss Alexander presided at the piano-forte, and, with Mr. Schucider, rendered pleasingly many beautiful marches, waltzes etc. "The Gypsy Counters," a Duett, by Miss Spencer and Mr. Dickey, was well

We were treated to a "manuahi," in the shape of a marriage; a fond and blushing couple being happily united in the silken &c. by the venerable Pastor, Rev. J. S. Green, for whose benefit the concert was given. Miss Miller's voice, and style of singing, show that she has improved her time while in San Francisco; and she bids fair to still further establish Hawaii nei's, reputation abroad for good singers. We hope to hear her in Honolulu before she returns to the Coast.

A Pleasant Retreat.

and his family in the pleasant retreat it affords them from the heat-and I may add, dust just now .- of Haiku and Wailuku. From a long distance the pretty little cottage shows white against the dark green of the mountain, and a visit there, revealed new beauties in the magnificent view afforded from the veranda. Then a short walk down the slope to a sunny hollow was amply rapaid by the sight of young fruit trees and berry-bearing bushes that are fairly domiciled in their new home. There are apple, plum, peach, pear, and apricot trees; strawberry, blackberry, raspberry, gooseberry, and other bushes; grape vines and figs. Walnut, chestnut, and locust trees are to be found; and amongst the vegetables, pie-plant, or rhubarb, potatoes, etc., and all are growing splendidly. Alexander tells me that not a root, cutting, young tree, or shrub, or vine of the many received from San Francisco, died. All have done well, and give promise of future fruitfulness. In a few years, it is be hoped, that many other summer roireats may be located on this mountain; where, while within easy reach of the steamer and schooner, can be found a delightful climate, pure air and water, and fruits and vegetables without limit. Now, as the cheerful light from "Olinda" gleams out, one thinks: "So shines a good deed in a naughty world." IGNORANUS.

The daily fall of the barometer during the winter, has been quite rapid from noon to 10.0 p. m.; and its second reading, and, on motion, was laid on the from 1 to 3 p m., much slower.

Sin :- On Saturday afternoon of last week there was an arrest made of an intoxicated sallor, belonging to the U. S. S. Luckumann, that for sheer brutality would have made the blood of any decent man run cold. The poor sailor was pinioued by as many men as could possibly lay their bands on him; some attempting to twest and wrench his limbs, as if for no other porpose than pure torture; one (without police uniform) had managed to get a position between the sufferer's legs, while with hands lasered into the sai'or's culiar he was evidently using his utmost efforts to strangle the man. This feat was certainly not far from being accomplished, when the man had reached the station-house dgor; what occurred inside, I do not know from personal observation, as I was unable to obtain entrance through the immense crowd that surrounded the door; but was informed that the treatment the poor fellow received there, was even worse (if possible) than he suffered in the street. It is clearly a disgrace to the police aethorities that such things should occur; and if they can be remedied in no other way, it is time that Consuls should interfere in behalf of their countrymen, whom they are sent here to protect. Numerous respectable witnesses were present, who will verify FAYE PLAY. the statement here given.

LONDON, May 1st, 1876.

Napal News .- Rear Admiral Hancock has just been selected by the Admiralty to succeed Rear Admiral Cochrane, as commander in chief of the Pacific station. Admiral Hancock, whose last command was second in command of the channel squadron, will hoist his flag on board the Shah, 26, iron screw frigate, now being brought forward at Portsmouth for commission. Admiral Cochrane, who was appointed June 6th, 1873, will return home in the Repulse, 12, serew flag-ship, armor-plated, Captain R. Carter, as soon as he is relieved by Admiral Hancock, who is expected to arrive on his station about the latter end of June. The Shah will be the first vessel supplied with Gatling guns under the new regula-tion, recently adopted by the Admiralty. Admiral Hancock has appointed Captain Wm. R. Kennedy as his flag captain. This officer, who is already well known at Honolula, has just published a book on "Sporting Adventures in the Pacific while in command of H. B. M.'s S. Reindeer," with illustrations by the author, Sampson Low. The serew corvettes Peterel, 3, Commander Cookson, and Tenedos, 8, Capt. Poliard, are both under orders to return home from the Pacific station to be paid out of commission at Devenport. The Challenger reached St. Vincent April 19th, and was to leave for home on the 26th. The Hawaiian bark R. C. Wylle, Captain Wolters, baving left Honolulu in December last, arrived safely at Bremerhaven on Sunday morning, April 9th, after a trip of 133 days.

" Myths and Songs from the South Pacific, a colection of late and early Polynesian legends, by the Rev. W. W. Gill, for 22 years missionary in the Hervey Islands," (King & Co.,) is a laudable attempt to rescue the mythologic legends, dramatic bymns and funeral dirges of Mangaia, the southernmost isle of the group, from the total oblivion into which, like these of Hawaii, they must ere long full before the advancing influence of the reading school and society Bible. The Rev. A. W. Murray has also published, " Forty Years' Missionary Work in Polynesia and New Guinea." At the Linnean Society, Prof. Dickie recently read a paper on " Polynesian Alge;" at the Arthropological Institute, Mr. Ranken spoke on " South Sea Islanders." Capt. G. L. Tupman, R. M. A., is now superintending at the Royal Observatory, Greenwich, the reductions of the British observations of the Transit of Venus which he himself successfully observed at Honokaupu, Honolulu, Dec. 8, 1874. Major Noble, R. A., has just been appointed judge on the part of England in the section of Artillery and War-like Stores at the Philadelphia Exhibition, where he may meet some of his Hawalian friends. P. S .- Admiral Hancock will not go out in the Shah, as originally intended, but proceeds in the mail steamer this month to Panama, where he will meet the Repulse, whereupon Admiral Cochrane will strike his flag and the new Admiral's will be hoisted on the mizzen. Admiral Cochrane, Capt. Carter and the Admiral's Staff will come home by the mail steamer from Panama. Capt. Kennedy will meanwhile commission the Shah with a complement of 550 men and officers, and take her out for service on the Pacific station.
